TRAIN WILL BE IN CITY ALL DAY TOMORROW

Unique Demonstration of Old and New Styles on the Santa Fe to Be Seen Near the Alvarado Hotel.

The Santa Fe's unique demonstration train arrived here this afternoon at 4:20 o'clock and will remain on exhibition near the Alvarado this evening and all day tomorrow. The train consists of 28 cars and two engines, one of which is the largest in the world, a gigantic Mallet compound, No. 3909. The other engine is one of the type that was first used on the Santa Fe. The cars show every style in use at the present time, and also all the types in use when the Santa Fe first ran trains into New Mexico. There are many interesting displays of devices in use to further the comfort and convenience of the passengers, as well as their safety, on display in the different cars. The train came in over the cut-off from Clarks, where it was yesterday, and will continue north tomorrow night. The oldest conductor on the road and the oldest engineer are in charge of the great combination of ancient and modern railway lines. The display has excited comment at

CHARGE AGAINST HALL SIMMERS DOWN SOME

The charge against Herbert Hall, a negro, who yesterday was arrested for striking and insulting Mrs. J. M. Brault, who runs a rooming house on North Broadway, today slimmered down into an actual charge of assault and battery. Justice of the Peace George R. Craig fined him $25 and costs with the happy alternative of spending 30 days in jail. Hall is a middle-aged negro of slight physique and has always been well behaved, according to the police, until yesterday. He had been drinking heavily, however, and was intoxicated at the time he struck Mrs. Brault. PERS.

MORTUARY.

Alonso Evans. The funeral of Alonso Evans, who died Oct. 5, will be held tomorrow afternoon in French and Lowrey's church at 2:30. Rev. S. E. Allison will officiate.

MORE NEW FALL HATS AT BALLEW MILLINERY

Women visitors at the late—not to mention Albuquerque people—will be interested in the announcement that the Ballow millinery on South Fourth street has received a new shipment of pretty fall hats. The collection includes all the late models in all the fashionable fall and winter colorings. Mrs. Ballow extends the public a cordial invitation to inspect them.

THE NEW CRYSTAL A GENUINE BEAUTY

And the Attraction Will Be in Keeping With the Appointments of Second Street Theater.

According to announcements made by the management today, the policy of the new Crystal theater on South Second street is to be entirely in keeping with the beauty and comfort of the new playhouse itself. "Quality and variety" and "photoplay life portraits" are to be the keystone of the program, and they are keystone which have a very pleasant sound to Albuquerque theatergoers. The new Crystal is undoubtedly the finest between Kansas City and Los Angeles. Experts have pronounced its acoustic properties as perfect, and the stage is equipped for the adequate handling of the most elaborate productions. Architecturally the house is a gem, both in appearance and in comfort. The new moving picture machine is the latest model in such devices, and a perfect presentation of the most complicated films is assured.

"HUBBY" SAVED THE DAY

Distressing Scene in Albuquerque Home Was Averted by the Quick Wit of the Man in the Case.

A distressing family scene was averted in an Albuquerque home the other day by the quick wit of the husband in the case. The wife, it seems, was making ready for an elaborate evening party, when she suddenly discovered that she was out of her favorite talcum powder and some other toilet requisites. Of course, it was almost dark for the party and the tears of anxiety were just about to fall when the husband came to the rescue with a saving suggestion. "Don't worry, my dear," said he, "I'll phone the Highland Pharmacy for the things you want and they'll be here in a jiffy." He phoned in No. 30 and in a very few minutes his lady was happily completing her toilet.

HAYS QUITS TO GO INTO MEXICO MINING

COURT NOTES

The Spencer-Gross-Kelly case, a suit for damages in the sum of $12,000 for breach of a timber cutting contract, is still on in the district court. This case has now run for three days. It is likely that the court will excuse the jury about the middle of next week for the balance of the week on account of the fair, according to a statement made today by a court official.

The jury empaneled by Justice of the Peace W. W. McClellan today returned the following verdict in the case of Nolasco Chavez, who was injured at Helen and brought here, dying Oct. 2.

"We, the undersigned Justice of the peace and jury, who sat upon the inquest held the 2nd and 7th days of October, 1911, on the body of Nolasco Chavez, find that the deceased came to his death from injuries received while at work by being knocked down at Helen, N. M., by engine 1188 of the Helen cut-off on Sept. 22, 1911, which eventually caused his death.

- W. W. McCLELLAN, Justice of the Peace.
- J. A. ABERCROMBIE, Foreman.
- J. A. MONTGOMERY, FRANK ROSS, F. H. WOLKING, CHARLES V. MAINEZ, Jury.

FINE OPENING BILL AT THE NEW CRYSTAL

High Class Vaudeville and "Photoplay Life Portrayals" Will Be the Big Features.

Local interest in things theatrical will center next week upon the opening Monday evening of the beautiful new Crystal theater on South Second street. The house is admittedly the most prettily appointed in the south-west, and the management has secured an exciting program which promises to be a genuine treat.

The vaudeville feature of the bill will be a humorous skit by McDonald and Shenbrot, a high grade team which was suggested specially by Manager Scott for this occasion. The moving picture numbers will comprise some of the best licensed films obtainable, a feature being the coronation of King George V. Three other "photoplay life portraits" will also be shown.

See the crowds see Col. Jones, Col. Jones Airdome.

BULLETIN OF ALL GAME LAWS IS SENT OUT

Department of Agriculture Distributes Comprehensive Compilation of Legislation in Different States in the Country.

The following bulletin has been sent out by the Department of Agriculture:

A comprehensive summary of the game laws of the United States and Canada, including those enacted during the present year, is set forth in Farmers' Bulletin 179, U. S. Department of Agriculture, soon to be issued by Secretary Wilson. The bulletin brings the data relating to game up to date and shows, by states, the new as well as old laws, changes and modifications of all laws relating to shipment, sales, limits and licenses.

It is stated that while the 1911 laws exceeded in volume those of any previous year, that was due to changes in the warden service, control of license funds, and to the curtailment of the bag limit rather than to modifying of seasons. Notable modifications in the warden service were made in Delaware, New York, North Dakota, Oregon, and Wyoming. Other states also passed laws increasing the warden force. Montana created three, North Dakota two game preserves, while Idaho and Washington added out each in their preserves. Massachusetts and Oregon made permanent arrangements for the creating of future preserves. California, Maine, Massachusetts, Michigan, Missouri, New Jersey, and Wisconsin passed laws permitting the possession and disposal of game reared in private preserves. North Carolina joined the list of states prohibiting the exportation of live quail for re-stocking purposes. New York adopted legislation closing its markets to all but a few foreign species and game raised in captivity.

A novel feature of new legislation was the prohibiting of the killing of dogs or use of other noise-producing devices in wild-fowl shooting in Delaware and the prohibiting by North Dakota of the use of automobiles in duck hunting.

The deer season was shortened from eleven to six days in Colorado, and from 105 to 65 in California, but was lengthened in Michigan, South Carolina, Vermont and Wyoming. Cottontail and bush rabbits were placed on the game list and provided with a season in California. Wild ducks were added to the lists in Delaware and South Carolina; Delaware placed woodcock on the game list; Kansas, squirrels and snipe; Maine, cedar ducks; Nebraska, hill quail and doves; and New Jersey, Hungarian partridges. Much needed protection was given gray and blue squirrels by Kansas, wild ducks by Massachusetts, wood ducks by Maine and Vermont, and doves and swans by North Dakota.

BUFFALO JONES IS AT THE AIRDOME

Never since Samson's time has the feat of Col. Jones been equaled. That is, Samson was a man of phenomenal strength. Col. Jones has proven himself a man of fearless courage.
